In a Bible study that reads like an epic novel, Chronicles of the Apostles harmonizes Josephus, rabbinic lore, and apostolic legends to tell the story of the martyrdom of Peter, the work of Thomas in India, the flight of the Jewish believers from Jerusalem to Pella, the fall of Jerusalem, John's exile on Patmos, the Roman persecutions, the second generation of disciples, the transitions from Sabbath to Sunday and from apostolic Judaism to Christianity.

STUDY, PRACTICE, TEACH!

Today's Bible students are seeking more! More than just creeds and dogma, today's Christian wants to apply the Bible to life by studying to learn, practice, and teach. Believers want to explore outside of traditional, denominational interpretations by examining the Bible as it was understood by the Jewish writers of the New Testament. Studying the Scriptures through "Jewish eyes" enables the Bible student to enter into the theological, cultural, and historical world of Jesus and the apostles and to understand the Bible as they understood it. Through comparison with Jewish teachings, Torah Club grants us a "before" picture with which we can compare our faith today and bring it into alignment with the original. A historical approach to Bible study recalibrates our spiritual compass, correcting our course for the future by pointing us toward the kingdom of heaven. Torah Club invites you to take the next step in your walk with God: to study, to practice, and to teach.
